Message from the President

Nyumba Ya Agikuyu, formerly known as Nyumba Ya Mumbi, operates out of Edmonton, Alberta, with members across the Capital Region.

In 2023, the organization re-established itself and rebranded under its current name with new leadership, which included the past president (Robert Kamau). The 2023–2025 Board focused on reviving the organization, rebuilding the bylaws, creating cohesion, and creating an inclusive environment for all members.

In August 2025, the new Board was elected unanimously and without contest, marking a renewed commitment to stability, transparency, and growth.

Since taking office, the current Board has:

- Reorganized administrative and communication systems
- Reconnected with members through consistent updates and engagement
- Applied for two funding opportunities
- Lowered membership fees

These steps have strengthened our foundation and positioned the organization for future growth.

Going forward, the Board is committed to:

- Increasing membership registration
- Building a strong online and social media presence
- Continuing to apply for funding, including future plans to hire a consultant
- Engaging men and boys through cultural and community initiatives
- Engaging youth to support leadership and cultural continuity
- Promoting Gikuyu language and literacy for children to preserve culture for future generations

Nyumba Ya Agikuyu continues to grow because of the commitment and participation of its members. I urge all members to support the leadership team and to be patient as we work diligently to build a vibrant, inclusive, and culturally grounded community together. Your involvement, encouragement, and understanding are key to our shared success. Thank you.
